Long ago and far away, mighty Gargoyle warriors lived as stone by day and flesh by night. Goliath and his band of warriors protected the Castle Wyvern from outside assaults by the Vikings. Even though the humans of the kingdom did not like them, the Gargoyles could not let the Vikings take away their home and destroy the eggs in the rookery.

After Castle Wyvern was lost to the Vikings, the Magus cast a spell changing the Gargoyles. They would sleep as stone forever, unless the castle were to rise above the clouds. One thousand years later, wealthy criminal David Xanatos buys the ancient Castle Wyvern. He knows of the spell and moves the castle, piece by piece, to the very top of his skyscraper in New York, the Eyrie Building.

Among all of the stone, dust, and tarps can you find the lost items of the old Castle Wyvern?
